Empowering our students with conceptual knowledge, wisdom and confidence at the academic level is our foremost priority. The infrastructure, facilities and equipments combined with a galaxy of competent and dedicated faculty contribute to effective teaching learning activities. The students take full advantage of these opportunities and make their Alma mater proud by succeeding with flying colours in Federal Board and Cambridge University examinations.

After taking due care of the academics, the main focus of the Institution is to mould our students into better human beings and instill in them values which are embedded for life. We aim to provide an overall development that nurtures them towards attaining refined and balanced personality. The institution provides every student with soft skills and educational skills by exposing them to a series of co-curricular and extra-curricular activities round the year.

I have firm belief that success is inevitable where there exist; foresightedness, firm determination, hard work and discipline. I am sure that the graduates of this great institution will be proud of themselves as confident and successful members of the society, ready to contribute positively for the prosperity and sovereignty of the country. I wish all the students and faculty a successful and rewarding career.

From the Editor's Pen

The hallmark of Burn Hall "The Hallmark" magazine once again is in your hands. A true reflection of this great institution, representation of marvelous values, norms, customs and manifestation of exuberant talent of the students of Burn Hall.

When we started working on this issue, I was much impressed by the efforts of the young Hallians who were having this strong faith that if they can't change the direction of the wind, they can adjust the sails to reach their destination. They are aware of the fact that they have to face the sun, because sky is their limit. They always strive hard to convert their good into better and their better into best.

They have put in their best while they were writing the articles and poems for "The Hallmark". They showed great enthusiasm because they know that happiness is not something they postpone for the future. It is something they design for the present.

We are their mentors and monitors. They always look at us for valuable guidance and we always show them the right path to reach their destination with full zeal. We always tell them to pursue excellence. Though perfection is not attainable, but if we chase perfection we can achieve excellence.

I hope you will enjoy and appreciate the efforts of the whole team of "The Hallmark"

This year, our students participated in the All Pakistan Bilingual Declamation Contest at FC University Lahore, Pakistan Air Force Academy Risalpur and Cadet College Batrasi, In addition to all these, College has also organized the All Pakistan Burn Hall Bilingual Declamation Contest. The Commandant PMA, graced the occasion with his presence as the Chief Guest. 19 institutions from all over the country participated and the trophy was won by the Pakistan Military Academy Kakul.

These results and activities clearly reflect the untiring and dedicated efforts of our faculty and the hard work of Hallians. All parents should be rightly proud of this institution where their sons are undergoing quality education and training.

Ladies and Gentlemen!

My report will be incomplete if I fail to express my sincere thanks to all members of the Board of Governors, other Heads of the Military and Civil institutions, particularly the PMA, the Regimental Centres and all others, whose help and support was always forthcoming. Above all, we are grateful to all parents for their tremendous co-operation. In the end, I would like to extend my heartiest congratulations to all the prize winners.

I once again thank the Honourable Chief Guest Brig Tahir Hameed for sparing his precious time for us and of course to all of you for your valued participation in the function. May Allah, lead us all on the right path, for the progress and prosperity of our motherland. Ameen!

God Bless Pakistan!

I thank you once again.

Chief Guest's Address

Annual Parents' Day And Prize Distribution Ceremony 2013

Brig. Mukhtar Muhammad, Principal Army Burn Hall College for Boys, respectable parents, distinguished guests and my dear Hallians,

Assalam-o-Alaikum!

It is a singular honour and privilege to be here as the chief guest of this auspicious occasion, when this edifice of learning is showing its grandeur by holding its Parents' Day function. Indeed, it is one of the most important events when all high achievers are rewarded in a befitting manner; and the others, who do not get an opportunity this time, reinvigorate their spirits to visit the podium next year.

Ladies and Gentlemen!

To grow up as good citizens, one needs certain tenets. It is in our hands — in the hands of our schools, mentors and parents — to inculcate these tenets in them to help them grow up as good human beings, who may positively contribute to the society, who are governed by the discipline from within not by the external forces, who think about giving back to the society, who love all people irrespective of caste, colour or creed. And I have firm belief that Army Burn Hall School and College is top of the range in this regard.

Dear Parents!

Bright faces, I see here today, are our future. We have high hopes for them. They may be the dream come true of Iqbal: they may follow the footsteps of the Quaid-e-Azam in true spirit; they may, tomorrow, grow up to be the scientists of their own times. By the Grace of God, I see them controlling the reins of the yet to come.

My dear Hallians!

Being educated is our religious obligation without which, we are at the level of animals. Always have mind; ignorance fails a man to resort to reason. In the Holy Quran surat Taha, ayat 114, the Almighty tells His Prophet PBUH to say, 'O! My Lord increase knowledge in me.'

BOYS JUST FEEL! Allah's emphasis is on education itself because He knows, the absence of good knowledge helps let loose the forces of evil whereas constructive knowledge endows man with the light of wisdom and perception, to cement his faith in the Omniscient.

My dear students!

I need to add here that the true grace of a student becomes luminous with the integrity and devotion to studies. You being students of an elite educational institution, have great prospects to join the armed forces and civil services. The number of Hallians undergoing training at the Pakistan Military Academy and other institutions assign it the status of a feeder institution to Armed Forces. As per the Principal's report, I feel you all are highly privileged so try to gain maximum benefit from all the facilities.

Dear boys!

While you should be engrossed in achieving excellence in academics, you should not, at the same time forget, that education does not mean the nitty-gritty of grammar or obtaining marks or handling sciences alone. Rather, education truly means intellectual, emotional, cultural and social development of an individual.

Remember! It's not marks alone that make a man.

Dear Hallians!

You should never be a uni-dimensional individual who is good at producing numbers only; you should know things like becoming a good neighbour as well. I urge you to always wear the badge of the Army Burn Hall with honour and gratitude; you display it with honesty and integrity. You are the ambassadors of the Army Burn Hall. Aspire to leave behind a legacy which you will always be remembered and admired for.

Dear audience, I thank you all for your patient listening. It's time to bid farewell now!

May Allah, the Greatest Creator, the Giver and the Protector of Life, bless you all, bless the Burn Hall, bless those who have graced today's ceremony and those who will do so in many years to come as faculty members, administrators, parents, guardians, students, guests, well-wishers and visitors.

Army Burnhall Zindabad!

THE WORLD AS I SEE IT

Discipline

Asad Ahmed Khattak
8th C

Children and young people do not generally like the sound of “discipline”. To them it means doing something, they hate doing and refrain from something, they wish eagerly to do. Thus to them the word “discipline” suggests restraint.

The real meaning of discipline is, however, not restraint. It means learning to adapt oneself to the conditions of life. Without some kind of discipline a man or a woman cannot live in a given society.

Man is a social animal and he cannot live alone for a long time. He has to depend on others because he cannot produce everything that he needs in life. Living in a society requires some kind of discipline. Civilized people have to be considerate about others. He who troubles his neighbors can expect nothing else but trouble from them in return.

Discipline is to teach oneself what to do to make life easier for others. The highest form of discipline is self discipline. Self discipline enables a person to refrain from doing things that have bad effects on others. In a household a wise father does not always advise his children to do certain things or otherwise. He rather explains as to how different actions of his children might affect others. He gives ample opportunities to his children to analyze the effects of their actions. In this way, a wise father shows the path of self discipline to his children.

Discipline is the law of universe; the change of season, the seed time and harvest, the course of the stars, the phenomena of day and night are all subject to law. Thus when we accept the discipline of life, we are working together with nature.

Friends! We must remember, that most of the tragedies of history have been caused by a lack of self discipline. Mir Jaffar of Bengal and Sadiq of Deccan allowed their ambitions to assume such proportions which led to the path of slavery. Hitler, though, he ruled his party with an iron rod, could not rule his mind and keep it within the bounds of reason and law and consequently he led a greater part of the world and himself to destruction.

Do You Know Your Lucky Number

Haider Ali Khan
6th Blue

It is very simple to find your lucky number. See the following chart. The Alphabets A, B, C.....Z have their specific number in a regular manner. By adding these numbers with your name's, respective alphabets. You can get your lucky number.

A1	B2	C3	D4
E5	F6	G7	H8
I9	J10	K11	L12
M13	N14	O15	P16
Q17	R18	S19	T20
U21	V22	W23	X24
	Y25	Z26

For example

My name is Haider Ali Khan. First of all I will find the number of my name's Alphabet. As

$$H+A+I+D+E+R+A+L+I+K+H+A+N$$

$$8+1+9+4+5+18+1+12+9+11+8+1+14$$

Their sum is 101

Now  $1+0+1 = 2$  Add your digit, that single number will be your Lucky Number. As my lucky number is 2.

Rights of Children

Momin Khan
5th Green

Our Holy Prophet (SAW) said "Children are flowers of Allah's garden". Children are very nice, lovely and innocent. They have been given certain rights by Islam and also by the world. First of all, children should be loved and taken care of. Good grooming and education are other rights of children. All the parents should send their children to school and not to any workplace because education is the best gift given to children by the parents. The teachers should also love young students and teach them kindly.

Art is Long, Life is Short

Umer Ahmed
6th Blue

The literal meaning of art is practical skill or its application guided by principles, human skills and agency (to nature), applications of skill into production of beauty especially visible beauty and works of creative imagination.

Art has also been called the language of emotions and expression of induction, the outward sign of unfathomable mental processes. It seems likely that no explanation is sufficient and that the more complex societies give rise to more intricate motives in the creation of art. And definition of life explained by "John Clare"

And what is life, an hour glass on the sun

A mist retreating from morning sun

A body, bustling still repeated dream

It's length, a minute's pause, a moment's thought.

I am convinced enough to say that the span of life is short and we will have to do a lot of work so that our names will be left in the world as one of the noble personalities.

I also believe that a person cannot achieve his aim in this fast moving world because he does not have enough time to do what he wants to. If he still tries, he may achieve the target.

At the end I must say that art is not biased because whosoever gets benefit from it, is only due to one's own devotion. The people like Michelangelo, Shakespeare, Galileo and Columbus earned their name by hard work. Although the time is short yet we can do whatever we want by dedication, commitment, hard work and by devotion.

If you live long enough, you'll make mistakes. But if you learn from them, you'll be a better person. It's how you handle adversity, not how it affects you. The main thing is never quit, never quit, never quit.

- William J. Clinton

Do We Need More Dams?

Farhat Ullah Khan
2nd Year C

The problem of energy and water resources in Pakistan is interlinked with each other. As many of foreign experts and some of our country fellows say that without dams we are doomed to a dry future and they insist that we should built new dams to store water and to generate electricity.

I am not ready to show any willingness to these tips given by experts, because these are old and odd means of generating electricity and storing water. Current knowledge of hydrogeology tells us that water storage is earned out better in aquifers than in dams. If we only refill the depleted aquifers under the city of Lahore we can store more water than the Tarbela reservoir that too with minimum social and environmental impacts. Rachna, Thal, Bori Doab all offer excellent aquifers which could be exploited for storage, offering a potential storage capacity hundred times more than that of Tarbela, Mangla and Kalabagh combined. Although refilling on aquifers would be expensive but it would be much cheaper than building a large dam.

To overcome the energy crisis dams are not the economic and social solution. Building a dam might lose $10 billion with an estimated generating capacity of 5 GW. This power however enters the grid only after the completion of dam which might take 15 years. With the prevailing technology of solar power it costs approximately 90 cents to produce one watt. By utilizing $10 billion we can produce 10GW and production can start with in the first few months of project, progressively reaching 10GW in 2 years.

So, $10 billion for 10GW in 2 years is a much better option to select to get our beloved country out of all these problems, than $10 billion for 5 GW in 5 years plus huge social and environmental impacts. We should use the latest knowledge and techniques to solve our problems and also get our investment spent in the right direction.

Life is a series of natural and spontaneous changes. Don't resist them - that only creates sorrow. Let reality be reality. Let things flow naturally forward in whatever way they like.

College Life 101

Muhammad Arsalan Imtiaz
2nd Year A

College can be intimidating for both seniors as well as juniors. My first year in the college was sort of stressful and difficult because of the many adjustments I had to make. This is also the time filled with anticipation and wonderful discoveries, All at once, I have to experience all new things which have caused a great impact on me. I do not say this to encourage you but rather to inform you so that somehow, you develop an idea about what lies ahead of you about college, so that you, as well as your parents, get time to prepare for. # Happiness

Mohib-Ullah Waseem Qazi
6th Green

---

One essential standard for living is being able to be happy. Happiness can be found in many different forms. It can be found with the purchasing of simple objects that better our living styles or it can be found with someone else that you associate with. The latter is the more important of the designs of happiness.

In order to be truly happy you need to be able to understand that everything is good within your own and that you are able to be happy with the people who are in your life and the people that influence how you live your daily life.

Happiness is all of the good that someone experiences combined into one emotion. This emotion can, and usually does, bring out the best in people. For someone to be happy he need to know that everything that has happened in his past has happened for a reason and that it has happened in order to make him better person. Not only does it make him a better person but it also makes him realize that he should have a firm forth . Although things might be hard to deal with at the moment, people need to realize that they will be able to learn from their experiences and that they will learn to take the good from them all. In the end, the hard times will help people strive for happiness.

Happiness is not free. You have to earn it and work to keep it. The price for happiness is having to suffer and having to question events that occur during one's life. People need to be able to adapt to their surroundings so that they can get the best out of them. You cannot live your life in fear of what can go wrong. You just need to go out and live your life to the fullest and know that you will be happy, even if something does not go the way that you had planned it to.

The best kind of happiness is when you know that you are able to care for someone and that they may care for you. They may just be your friends but you care for them enough that you want what is best for them and in return they want the same for you. This kind of happiness is of the purest form. It is an unspoken agreement between people that says that each of you will do whatever they can to make the other person happy and that in this process you, yourself, will be able to be happy and enjoy the moment.

Happiness may come and go like the seasons but in the end, every moment that you have is filled with happiness.

The Identity of Pakistanis

Adnan Ahmad
2nd Year C

Proud nations in the world always continue their journey towards elevation while keeping their culture and traditions alive, which help them to achieve a distinguished position among all other nations on the globe. Nevertheless, masses in Pakistan have different priorities and they are going in a completely reversed situation as they are leaving their own traditions and are adopting foreign culture to be called as 'modernists'. But in my dictionary they are named as mentally sick people. Such kind of mentally sick people think that their respect in the society lies in adopting foreign culture. They do not even think that by doing it, they are losing, or have lost, their own identity. In the recent past, when we were rich in everything that is required to form a culturally rich society, we had the most fascinating traditions and also had respect in the whole world. Countless visitors around the world used to visit Pakistan because of its distinctive culture and it was the outcome of more than one thousand years. Nonetheless, now we stand nowhere as we are destroying our beautiful traditions with our own hands and this process has penetrated very deep in our society. Those nations that leave their culture and adopt the foreign traditions always fail to get recognition in the world. Because they destroy their own identity and live a life according to the standards set by others. We have gone too far in this respect as we think ourselves to be superiors among all societies by adopting a foreign culture, Media in Pakistan is the route cause of this problem because all channels are busy in promoting foreign culture. In Pakistani dramas now, one feels that there is no local culture as it reflects a complete different picture which is not ours. We have currently lost our honor in the whole world as we live a life which is borrowed from others. We need to play our role in promoting our culture if we really want to become a distinguished nation.

Whenever you're in conflict with someone, there is one factor that can make the difference between damaging your relationship and deepening it. That factor is attitude.

Friendship

Junaid Safdar
10th D

“But if the while I think on thee, dear friend.
All losses are restored and sorrow ends.”

Friendship is an inexpressible comfort of feeling safe with a person, having neither to weigh thoughts nor to measure words. No need to gather or the time or speak to each other every day to realize how strong friendship is. As Elisabeth Foley says, “The most beautiful discovery true friends make is that they can grow separately without growing apart.” It is a special relationship that needs no measures and is based only on trust. Dougals Pagels, an author, says “A friend is one of the nicest things you can be”.

Friendship is a silent promise spoken only by heart and is renewed every time two friends meet and smile. “Friendship needs no words – it is solitude delivered from the anguish of loneliness. In other words, “True friendship comes when silence between two people is comfortable.” The enjoyment of such friendship comes simply from being together.

“Whether near or far apart, friendship is a promise; spoken only by heart”.

Friendship is full of bounties – it is feeling completely natural and pure with others; forgetting all pretence and just being yourself. It is sharing both big and little things; laughters and tears. “A true friend is one before whom you can think aloud.” It is the matter of those understanding each other’s moods and to be there with a word of encouragement, a smile and a pleasant look; when most needed. The best kind of friend is the one you could sit on a porch with never saying a word, and walk away feeling like that was the best conversation you’ve had.” A life without friendship is meaningless. Friendship gives a man the real pleasures of existence in the world.

A friend is someone who is rare in every way. His smile is like sunshine that brightens each new day to make the world a warmer place with thoughtful pleasant ways. A friend is someone who is affectionate and kind and can know by looking at your face, ‘what is going on in your mind’. According to Donna Roberts, “A friend knows the song in my heart and sings it to me when my memory fails.” A friend is a very lovely part of all the treasures and memories that you hold in your heart.

A Sicilian proverb goes:

“Only your real friends will tell you when your face is dirty”.

The Hallmark 2013-14

It is a true friend who makes our lives complete in special different ways. It does not matter that a lapse of time comes between two friends, or with the passage of time their personalities go under change; they remain lifetime friends.

In the world of today it is very difficult to find a true and sincere friend. One must search for a treasured jewel. Most of the friendships are made for worldly gains or benefits. The old friends be treasured as it takes a long time to grow an old friend. An old friend is like an old tree that is deep rooted and has a firm grip on earth; hard blows of weather can not uproot it. So we should not lose old friends but to value them always.

The friend who can be silent with us in a moment of despair or confusion, who can tolerate not knowing, not curing, not healing and face with us the reality of our powerlessness, that is a friend who cares. "I always felt that the great high privilege, relief, and comfort of friendship were that one had to explain nothing."

The main attraction of friendship is hidden in a sense of oneness of heart. It is a tie that binds the two individuals together, spiritually and mentally they are one, though physically they are two.

"Man is known by the company he keeps". You had better be alone than in mean company. Bad company ruins many promising careers. Ralph Waldo Emerson, an American essayist and poet says, "A man's growth is seen in the successive choirs of his friends."

"A friend is a person to whom I may be sincere with. Before him I may think aloud. I am arrived at last, in the presence of a man so real and equal, that I may drop even those under most garments of dissimulation, courtesy and second thought, which men never put off, and may deal with him with the simplicity and wholeness with which one chemical atom meets another". Ralph Waldo Emerson.

"I attribute my success to this: I never gave or took any excuse."

- Florence Nightingale

"Love many things, for therein lies the true strength, and whosoever loves much performs much, and can accomplish much, and what is done in love is done well."

- Vincent Van Gogh

People do not Lack Strength, They Lack Will

Hassan Zeb
9th A

Life! This one word has been so variously defined that it seems almost impossible to select one definition. As everyone has its own point of view, but it can always be considered as canvas which is in the hands of the person who owns it. Not only Allah Almighty has blessed man with his life, but He has also been generous enough to give man the choice of leading his life the way he wants. He has the right to make his life of his own choice, take his own risks, take decisions he want to take. But there is diversity everywhere in Nature, we also see diversity in people. Some lead their life exactly the way they want, some are bent by rules and regulations. Some are happy with the way they lead the life, some are in continuous remorse about wasting it. Some lead their own lives, while others are lead by their lives. But as it is said, "Variety is the spice of life". So, every life has a story to tell, every heart has some feelings to share but a panoramic view through pages of history tells us that all those who made the best of their lives had one thing in common "determination, will power and perseverance". As reminded by R.W Emerson, "Lives of great men all remind us, we can make our life sublime". Nature has gifted every person with one ability or the other. There is nothing like a person lacking talent, or good for nothing. Though nobody is jack of all trades, but everybody is the master of some. Then what is the factor that leads the person to the height of the sky and the other person to the depths of nothingness?

The answer is not much difficult to find, it comes from deep within our hearts: courage and will power. Those precisely, are the tricks. If one has an ability and he does not dare to find it within himself and expose it to others, it remains wasted just like an unpolished diamond. Complaining, whining and beaming for one's failure is not even an option. As it is said, "Success hugs you in private, but failure slaps you in public". There is no else to blame but one's own self. It is one's own duty to explore gems of abilities. Allah thrusts upon him, and polishes them, for them to become a priceless diamond, which he could have easily redeemed for the rest of his life. If one does not dare to fly how can he know the direction of the wind? If one remains afraid of the tides and depths of water, he cannot learn to swim.

It is said that, "One never knows how strong he is, until being strong is his only choice". It is never the lack of ability that destroys one's life but only the fear of taking risks, and that of failure, but failure is not a thing to be afraid of, the real thing that matter it is, how to handle the failure. If one loses heart, he cannot achieve again. Failures are like stones, it is one's own whether he makes mountains out of them which he cannot pass or a staircase which can lead him to the heights of success. It is said, "Failure is nothing but a step towards success".

Only those who learn to overcome the fear of failure with their willpower, are victorious. Remaining hidden in one's so called "Safety net" not daring to explore his own or self or lacking the will power to make one's life better than ever are the sole reasons of failure.

Not everyone is Talstoy, to rewrite his novel "War and Peace". 25 times, and not losing heart after 25 failed attempts. Not everyone is Japan which underwent the most disastrous events in history, yet again rose from the ashes like a Phoenix. Not everyone loses and is defeated 5 times, but still gathers his willpower and conquers the country in the 6th attempt.

Hence it is clear from history, observation and thinking that "People do not lack strength", they lack will". If a person earnestly wishes and is willing to do what he wants, there is no barrier that can stop him no wind that slows him down, no river he cannot cross and this is exactly why some people make a beautiful painting on their canvas of life, while others blankly stare at it unwilling to play with the colors and as it obvious that no painting can be completed without it, similarly, no individual can be successful without will power and determination, as these qualities are as important to life as breathing.

Importance of Reading

Abdullah Saleem Nizami
5th Red

---

Reading plays an important role in an education system. It is the basis of educating a nation. Language has two main skills i.e. primary skills which include speaking and listening and secondary skills which include reading and writing. Without developing a reading skill, we are unable to interpret the main idea of any written material which may lead to misguidance. Reading helps us make friendship with books which are indeed our real friends.

A person who is skilled in reading, spends his time in gaining a knowledge and it is rightly said that "Knowledge is power". The nations which are equipped with this power are dominant in all the fields of life. We should promote educational activities especially reading, to make our educational system effective and efficient. This is the only way to create and establish sound educational system.

Role of Sports in Reshaping Youth

Hamza Suleman
2nd Year A

Physical activities play a vital role in the brief development of young people. Grooming of youth is the grooming of the future of the nation. Sports help in polishing the leadership qualities in young men and women. Sports provide youth with a platform of positive social interaction between individuals colleges, cities and countries.

There is a strong relationship between sports and attitude. Sports produces certain qualities like facing pressurized situations, sportsmen spirit, leadership qualities, positive thinking, confidence building etc. These qualities make the youth to have a faith in their abilities and to overcome the fears which stand in the way of their positive achievements. As the Vince Lombardi says.

“Winning isn’t everything but wanting to win is (And loosing is not actually the part of game)

No doubt a nation can only be strong when the youth is strong and the youth will be strong when their aptitude towards the positive achievements will be strong. Sports produce healthy youth, which can build our nation. Not gold but men can make a nation brave and strong. Men who for faith and honor’s sake stand fast and suffer long. Brave men who work while other sleep, who dare while others fly. They build a nation’s pillar deep and lift them to the sky. Any educational institution is the cradle of success of any country. All the developed countries pay a lot of attention to sports as they know the nation which lack in the sports can never progress towards further development as the sports is the ideal way of reshaping youth.

“Success is not measured by what you accomplish, but by the opposition you have encountered, and the courage with which you have maintained the struggle against overwhelming odds.”

- Orison Swett Marden

Success does not consist in never making mistakes but in never making the same one a second time.”

- George Bernard Shaw

The Diary of A Complete Misfit

Muhammad Asad Abbas
1st Year B

Life is full of dazzles and fireworks with turns. Do you think that you are always at the losing end of your life? Do you have this feeling that this world is not fit for you?

Let us see how a complete misfit is passing his lifeless boring days.

His day starts with the ear drum bursting, head stuffed with the sound of the alarm. He opens his eyes, gets up and moves in front of the mirror; it is not a beautiful sight of nature but a horrible one. Hair standing on one side, a huge pillow crease on the face, and a giant zit on the forehead. He is not thinking himself to be a human as a heap of homework is to trouble him till midnight or even after. He tries to salvage whatever he can to make himself look presentable. He overhears the continuous yelling from downstairs beckoning him to hurry up or he is going to miss his bus. He starts cramming his toast and swallowing everything at once, which triggers a nasty cough and Ehh..... some bolus sticks to his uniform. He takes a tissue and manages to avoid any scolding. He catches his bus, steps in a puddle of muddy water, which leave his newly polished shoes in a tantalizing cover. A smudge and clay! He enters his college and there awaits the college bullies, the one with the million friends and goes to the size of mount K2. He undergoes a series of endless problems. He now remembers that he forgot to bring his assignment and he concludes that he is a dead man because the teacher is going to kill him. Well, he faces the music and it is not pretty. After being skinned by his teacher, he dreads the prospect of another day of another lonely break time. Just when he is thanking, the teasing battalion is busy, he is ambushed by the college adjutant for wearing the wrong pattern shoes.....Alas. he spends the rest of the college time unnoticed. He goes home and there awaiting him, is the gunfire unleashed on him by his parents who tell him to work harder and also enjoy the extracurricular activities. They also tell him to be presentable because they are inviting some relatives tonight. Oh great ..... He thinks ..... I am just the need of company of some cool hip-hop elder cousins. Anyway they launch a conversation of what is new and hot. They list a couple of rock and roll band and he is treated to an endless test of jobs and taunts and he decorates his full devotion towards music. At the dinner table an aunt enquires him about his skinning and weight loss. His uncle tries to include him to a little man to man talk about tanks, guns, waves etc. He becomes bruised by all the hefty handshakes and patting on the back. He simply sinks down and goes to his room blocking all the festivities. He is depressed beyond belief. He seeks solace in spirituality. He prays to GOD to be gifted the right approach to life, to look forward to future, to find a happy medium to himself.

Snakes

Ibrar Khan
6th Red

---

Snakes belong to class Reptilia, a group in which all creeping animals with no legs or very small legs are included like lizards, tortoises and crocodiles. They are found everywhere in the world except New Zealand and Ireland, where they are relatively rare or absent. They are more abundant in hot regions than in cold regions. The tropics and subtropics have the greatest variety and numbers of snakes. There are, in all, about 3000 species of snakes in the world majority of them being non-poisonous and harmless to man. They differ widely in their habits and modes of life. The burrowing snakes prefer to live on trees. Some kinds have long and slender bodies, almost wire like, by which they can easily reach from one branch to the other.

Life is a horse either you ride it or it rides you.

Knowledge is knowing that you do not know.

The greatest mistake you can make in this life is to be continually fearing you will make one.

The Lasting Value of Books

Bilal Ahmed
6th Orange

---

Books are our constant companions. They are great sources of knowledge and entertainment. Books can open up the unknown world to us and familiarize us with the unfamiliar. It is fascinating to read about various things that one has never seen or heard about. Books are the tools with which we can explore the vast world around us. Thus, it is very essential to make a child understand the importance of books. One can motivate a child to read books by describing various adventures in book and presenting a child with books instead of toys. A child soon lives of momentary attraction. But once reading habit is developed, this would offer rich rewards for a lifetime. Books have stood the test of time. They never grow old or change like fashions or toys. Their real importance is understood only in retrospection and so have a lasting impact on readers. Thus, we should give a child gifts that last and endure.

Scary Night

Muhammad Ahmed Khan
5th Red

---

It was a dark night. I was about to go to bed when I heard a tapping sound on my window. "Who's there?" I shouted. Suddenly there was a flash of light; I saw a face at the window. It looked like an alien, an alien that I had seen on the television show, "The X Files". I felt very scared. I ran to my bed and pulled my blanket over my head. I started to shout for my parents but there was no reply. Then I remembered that they were at a fancy dress party.

I peeped out of my blanket but it was too dark to see anything. Then I heard footsteps. They were getting louder and louder. It was dark but I knew the way to my drawer where I kept my camera. I ran there and took out my camera and started to take pictures in the direction of the window. Soon the footsteps died off. The grandfather clock stuck.... Dong.... It was 12 midnight. I went back to my bed and tried to sleep. But I could not sleep! Felt too frightened!

I sat up, my mind was full of thoughts. Time passed. One o'clock, four O'clock. Finally, I fell asleep. I woke up only after eight and decided to investigate.

I found some footprints outside my bedroom window. I measured them with a tape and found them to be exactly the same size as my father's shoes. The footprint ended at the door of my house. I then went to my town to get the film developed. But when I saw the photos I was shocked. They were black and I could hardly see anything. Then I remember that I did not use the flash. When I reached home I told my father the whole incident and he started to laugh. I started laughing too when he told me that he had dressed up as an alien for the party. Today, I am still amused to think. I was so afraid of my own father.

"In a moment of decision, the best thing you can do is the right thing to do, the next best thing is the wrong thing, and the worst thing you can do is nothing."

Polymerization

Naveed Ahmad Anjum
Lecturer in Chemistry

A polymer is a large molecule, or macromolecule, composed of many repeated subunits. Because of their broad range of properties, both synthetic and natural polymers play an essential and ubiquitous role in everyday life. Polymers range from familiar synthetic plastics such as polystyrene to natural biopolymers such as DNA and proteins that are fundamental to biological structure and function. Polymers, both natural and synthetic, are created via polymerization of many small molecules, known as monomers. Their consequently large molecular mass relative to small molecule compounds produces unique physical properties, including toughness, viscoelasticity, and a tendency to form glasses and semi crystalline structures rather than crystals.

Some important polymers

Nylon 66 (nylon 6-6, nylon 6/6 or nylon 6, 6) is a type of polyamide or nylon. Nylons come in many types, and the two most common for textile and plastics industries are nylon 6 and nylon 66. Nylon 66 is made of two monomers each containing 6 carbon atoms, hexamethylenediamine and adipic acid, which give nylon 66 its name.

Polyvinyl chloride, more correctly but unusually poly (vinyl chloride), commonly abbreviated PVC, is the third-most widely produced synthetic plastic polymer, after polyethylene and polypropylene.

PVC comes in two basic forms: rigid (sometimes abbreviated as RPVC) and flexible. The rigid form of PVC is used in construction for pipe and in profile applications such as doors and windows. It is also used for bottles, other non-food packaging, and cards (such as bank or membership cards). It can be made softer and more flexible by the addition of plasticizers, the most widely used being phthalates. In this form, it is also used in plumbing, electrical cable insulation, imitation leather, signage, inflatable products, and many applications where it replaces rubber.

Pure poly (vinyl chloride) is a white, brittle solid. It is insoluble in alcohol but slightly soluble in tetrahydrofuran.

Polystyrene (PS) is a synthetic aromatic polymer made from the monomer styrene. Polystyrene can be solid or foamed. General-purpose polystyrene is clear, hard, and rather brittle. It is an inexpensive resin per unit weight. It is a rather poor barrier to oxygen and water vapor and has a relatively low melting point. Polystyrene is one of the most widely used plastics, the scale of its production being several billion kilograms per year. Polystyrene can be naturally transparent, but can be colored with colorants. Uses include protective packaging (such as packing peanuts and CD and DVD cases), containers (such as "clamshells"), lids, bottles, trays, tumblers, and disposable cutlery.

As a thermoplastic polymer, polystyrene is in a solid (glassy) state at room temperature but flows if heated above about 100 °C, its glass transition temperature. It becomes rigid again when cooled. This temperature behavior is exploited for extrusion (as in Styrofoam) and also for molding and vacuum forming, since it can be cast into molds with fine detail.

Polystyrene is very slow to biodegrade and is therefore a focus of controversy among environmentalists. It is increasingly abundant as a form of litter in the outdoor environment, particularly along shores and waterways.

Polyester is a category of polymers that contain the ester functional group in their main chain. As a specific material, it most commonly refers to a type called polyethylene terephthalate (PET). Polyesters include naturally occurring chemicals, such as in the cutin of plant cuticles, as well as synthetics through step-growth polymerization such as polybutyrate. Natural polyesters and a few synthetic ones are biodegradable, but most synthetic polyesters are not. This material is used very widely in clothing.

Poly vinyl acetate (PVA, PVAc, poly (ethenyl ethanoate): commonly referred to as wood glue, white glue, carpenter's glue, school glue, Elmer's glue in the US, or PVA glue) is an aliphatic rubbery synthetic polymer with the formula (C<sub>4</sub>H<sub>6</sub>O<sub>2</sub>)

n. It belongs to the polyvinyl family with the general formula  $-\text{[RCOOCHCH}_2\text{]}-$ . It is a type of thermoplastic.

Polytetrafluoroethylene (PTFE) is a synthetic fluoropolymer often tetrafluoroethylene that has numerous applications. The best known brand name of PTFE-based formulas is Teflon by DuPont Co., which discovered the compound.

PTFE is a fluorocarbon solid, as it is a high-molecular-weight compound consisting wholly of carbon and fluorine. PTFE is hydrophobic: neither water nor water-containing substances wet PTFE, as fluorocarbons demonstrate mitigated London dispersion forces due to the high electronegativity of fluorine. PTFE has one of the lowest coefficients of friction of any solid.

PTFE is used as a non-stick coating for pans and other cookware. It is very non-reactive, partly because of the strength of carbon-fluorine bonds, and so it is often used in containers and pipework for reactive and corrosive chemicals. Where used as a lubricant, PTFE reduces friction, wear and energy consumption of machinery. It is commonly used as a graft material in surgical interventions. Also, it's frequently employed as coating on catheters; this interferes with the ability of bacteria and other infectious agents to adhere to catheters and cause hospital-acquired infections.

ON THE WINGS OF POESY

The Greatest Allah

Talha Abbasi
10th D

Allah is always number one

He is merciful and kind to everyone

He loves you whether you worship Him or not

He loves and gives the livelihood to every one

There is no even single virtue in our record

But He is kind and gives food to everyone

Many people do not worship Him

But still He is kind and loves everyone

Many people are dying without doing any good thing

But when the Day of Judgment comes He will forgive everyone

But those persons who worship others except Him

Allah says in Quran that there is no mercy for them

Allah gave me food in, even, the womb of my mother

I believe not to worship but Him,

He will also give me heaven with the Mercy of Him

So stop worshipping idols and any other except Him!

Try To Smile

Usman Abbasi
2nd Year B

---

When someone tries to ignore you

Or anyone comes to bore you

And none tries to assure you

That he has sympathy for you

Stand up there for a while

Please don't weep

But try to smile

If any friend has wrongly blamed you

Or out of malice has named you

And for all his jokes, he aimed at you

Don't befriend him, abstain from him

Don't weep but try to smile!!

If not a single thing you owe and

Your income and grades are low

The speed of having pleasure is slow

Instead of losing, let hope grow

In such moments that are fragile

Don't weep! Do try to smile!!

Oh! We have our examination,
Every student in tribulation,

In English we have comprehension,
In science we have distillation,

In Maths we have multiplication,
Oh! What a complication,

I tell you why we have examinations,
So we can get into big organizations,

They tell us the sign of good civilizations,
That is why we have examinations,

Studies without examinations,
Give education a bad reputation,

We have to work for our mind's cultivation,
Examinations the part of education,

The Truth

Asad Abbas

I can never utter
What I want to say;
And if I do
No one listens to,
And even if one does,
One never tries to comprehend
Or,
Pretends just to understand
It is so
Because what I say
Is the truth
And no one can hear it;
This is why
I regret
The moment I conceived it;
And yet
I cannot let it off my head.

Goodbye My School

Hassan Ali

Sitting in a moonlit night
I saw my past so bright,
All those fun-filled years
Which were without any fears
I still remember my first day,
It was as usual and not so gay,
And then I started having fun,
Loved every activity under the sun
Year by year time passed,
And left behind memories so vast,
Our teachers were gentle and kind,
Fellows like them one can't find
They are the souls who can satisfy,
All our problems, who can justify
And now I am standing right here,
From where I can see all clear
The golden times that I have spent
Which is slipping from my hands I repent
And finally its time to say good bye
My memories long to be cherished
For my loving school I want to cry
I think all my worries would fly
Up high and higher in the sky
One day I will stand too tall
To see the beauty and of it all.

Give Peace A Chance

Muhammad Uzair
2nd Year C

Wars and battles are depressing
Killing, criminating, hurting, distressing
Breeze of peace is Allah's blessing
It softens hearts and keeps us bracing
Peace is something we mutually ferry
For it is endearing and sweet as cherry
At times opinions and ideas may vary
Doesn't imply, odium we should carry
Lack of wisdom among conflicting sides
Result in violence, bloodshed and genocide
Peace always helps innocent lives
Circumvent tears, if we truly strive
Peace brings us love, care and tranquility
Fidelity, steadiness, stability and reliability
Sense of gentleness and serenity
For those who realize, a real sagacity
Pakistanis must rid themselves of vanity
Instead, opt for harmony, accord and unity

Must cuddle peace through generosity
Break the shells and embrace liberality
Peace in Pakistan will certainly grow
Will be difficult, spiky and may be slow
When there's care that we all know
Peace will make its way like water flow
Devoid of love the humanity would freeze
There will never be a durable peace
Peace will make our planet free
Open our minds, and help us perceive
Peace is something we can't sell or buy
Dig out from ground or grasp from sky
Peace will commence if we actually try
Options are few and the stakes are high
For, love and peace, must unite
If we hope, to win this fight
Pakistanis must learn to make it right
Not blame others, for own plight

313 Against Thousands

Ahsan Zahid
6th Yellow

---

The scenario changed in such a way
Can't think the thing which happened there!
The people who were looking gay
Tasted defeat, very severe.
313 against thousands of men
Having nothing, nothing to fight
But because of faith what happened then
They got a victory not in sight.
The men who came to conquer the sky
Lost the Battle with grains of sand.
The men who knew how to fly
Forgot even how to walk.
The people thought as desert's dust
Knew that for good one has to strive.
They came to know faith is a must
Can never get their desired seat

Drama is the fountain of life for the children. It gives sparkle to home, school or wherever children gather. Children are actors without stage fright. They perform as expertly to an empty hall as to a full house. They say what they feel and feel what they say. They unashamedly use enormous conceptions and unintentional puns. Creativity abounds, children ride a plant 'horse', eat sand 'cakes' and drink water 'drinks' without apology for their realism. If adult have sensitive ears, eyes and hearts, they may be moved from the deepest anguish to poetic ecstasy or be entertained by rollicking slap stick.

Drama is something that we all engage in daily life. Drama has a role to play in all the four skills; reading, writing, speaking and listening. This year too the Drama Club of the College was busy in the creative faculties of the Hallians. On the occasion of Annual Parents Day and Prize Distribution Ceremony, they presented an English Play 'Twelfth Night' which was very well appreciated by the guests and also a tableau based on the song of Jawad Ahmed to highlight the sense of patriotism among the masses. Apart from these the young Hallians long various folk songs to show the national harmony.
